EBENSBURG APPOINTS NEW TAX COLLECTOR

Ebensburg – Ebensburg Borough Council has named Nichole Ream to the position of Ebensburg Borough Tax Collector.

Ream has 13 years experience teaching high school mathematics classes in Elizabethtown, Lebanon and Hollidaysburg. She currently teaches Upward Bound students at St. Francis University on a part-time basis.

Ream is a graduate of Penn State University and holds a Masters in Education from Wilkes University.

Ebensburg officials have implemented changes this year that require the tax office to be in the municipal building rather than the tax collector's home. Council President Deb Nesbella said, "We want to be certain that taxpayers' personal information is completely protected and that the data is backed up. We also want the residents to be able to pay taxes during convenient office hours. Having the tax office in the municipal building will provide for that."

Former Tax Collector Charlene Remillard, who was recently reelected to the post, chose to resign the position at the end of 2009 for personal reasons. Mrs. Ream will hold the post for two years until the next municipal election, at which time candidates may run for the remainder of the 4-year term.
